

Remarks

In response to the Office Action dated March 23, 2006, Applicants provide the following remarks to address the issues cited by the Examiner.

Status of the Claims

By this amendment, claims 21-23 have been amended, claim 24-25 have been added and no claims have been cancelled; therefore, claims 11-25 are currently pending in the present application. It is respectfully submitted that no new matter has been introduced by this amendment, as support therefor is found throughout the specification and drawings. In view of the above amendment and the following remarks, it is respectfully submitted that claims 11-25 are allowable.

Claim Objections

Claims 11-23 were objected to for the minor informalities with respect to how the claims were presented in the listing of claims. Applicant has corrected the presentation of the respective claims in the listing of claims according to the Examiner's instructions. Accordingly, withdrawal of this objection is respectfully requested.

Claim Rejections under 35 U.S.C. 103(a)

Claims 11-23 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McLain (U.S. 3,422,008). The Examiner's grounds for rejection are hereinafter traversed, and reconsideration is respectfully requested.

"To establish prima facie obviousness of a claimed invention, all the claim limitations must be taught or suggested by the prior art. In re Royka, 490 F.2d 981, 180 USPQ 580 (CCPA 1974). 'All words in a claim must be considered in judging the patentability of that claim against the prior art.' In re Wilson, 424 F.2d 1382, 1385, 165 USPQ 494, 496 (CCPA 1970)." M.P.E.P. § 2143.03 (emphasis added). "A prior art reference must be considered in its entirety, i.e., as a whole, including portions that would lead away from the claimed invention." W.L. Gore & Assoc. v. Garlock, Inc., 721 F.2d 1540, 220 U.S.P.Q. 303 (Fed. Cir. 1983, cert. denied, 469 U.S.

851 (1984). M.P.E.P. § 2141.02 (emphasis added). Furthermore, “The teaching or suggestion...must both be found in the prior art, not in applicant's disclosure. In re Vaeck, 947 F.2d 488, 20 USPQ2d 1438 (Fed. Cir. 1991).” M.P.E.P. § 2143 (emphasis added). It is respectfully submitted that the Examiner has failed to establish a prima facie obviousness rejection as the cited art fails to teach, show or suggest all of limitations of the claimed invention and, in fact, teaches away from the claimed invention.

With respect to claim 11, McLain does not teach or otherwise suggest laying down the fibers during winding with a tensile strain of at least 10g as recited. To the contrary, McLain teaches a wound fiber apparatus that is arranged to “prevent[] the creation of any tension in the fiber” (see col. 6, lines 25-26, emphasis added). Additionally, McLain does not teach or suggest that the fibers are frictionally held as recited in claim 11. To the contrary, McLain teaches that there is a bond between the fibers and the tubesheet resin (see, for example, col. 5, lines 1 and 2 “...without disturbing the bond between fiber and tubesheet resin” (emphasis added). Applicant respectfully submits that the Examiner has provided no evidence to support the assertion that McLain teaches or suggests that the fibers are “frictionally held” nor has the Examiner provided some suggestion of the desirability to do the same based on the teachings of McLain. Furthermore, McLain does not teach or suggest that the fibers are “deformed at the intersections” as recited in claim 11. To the contrary, McLain teaches that that the fibers inherently do not have their inner cross section noticeably restricted, which is duly confirmed by the Examiner’s own statement on pages 2-3 of the office action (see page 2, last line - page 3, line 2: “each fiber...being laid down...not to have their inner cross section noticeably restricted.”); hence, the fibers in McLain are not deformed at the intersections as claimed by the Applicants. Accordingly, claim 11 patentably distinguishes over McLain. Withdrawal of this rejection is respectfully requested.

Claims 11-23 and newly added claims 24-25 depend from claim 11. Thus, for reasoning that is the same as or similar to that provided in support of the patentability of claim 11, claims 11-25 patentably distinguish over McLain. Withdrawal of this rejection is respectfully requested.

Conclusion

It is respectfully submitted that claims 11-25 are allowable for at least the above-mentioned reasons. All issues raised by the Examiner having been addressed, an early action to that effect is earnestly solicited.
